The regulatory burden experienced by aquaculture producers has increased production costs on Florida farms. Identifying these costs is an important first step in streamlining regulatory compliance and reducing strain on the producer.

Come listen to Dr. Jonathan van Senten talk about his experiences identifying the regulatory burden for other US aquaculture commodities.

We will also be discussing a regulatory cost survey for Florida's ornamental fish production industry with the hopes of streamlining our own regulatory cost burdens.

For more information please contact:

Matt DiMaggio
813-671-5230 x115
mdimaggi@ufl.edu

Eric Cassiano
772-480-7401
ericcass@ufl.edu

http://tal.ifas.ufl.edu  www.facebook.com/UFIFASTAL